

ABOUT THE EDITORS

Alhaji Mohamed Sirjoh Bah is a Senior Researcher with the Peace Missions Programme at the Institute for Security Studies (ISS). He was the project officer responsible for the current publication. Alhaji holds a PhD in International Relations from Queen's University. He graduated with a BA and MPA from Fourah Bay College, University of Sierra Leone, and the University of Cape Town, respectively. He worked as a teacher and journalist in Botswana from 1995-98. Dr. Bah has conducted extensive research and published widely on issues of development and security in West and Southern Africa, and specializes in regional security arrangements in these regions. He was a research intern at the Pearson Peacekeeping Centre (PPC) in Cornwallis, Nova Scotia, and the International Development Research Centre (IDRC) in Ottawa. Dr. Bah is one of the authors of the recently published report: The Joint Africa/G8 Plan to Enhance African Capabilities to Undertake Peace Support Operations: Survey of current G8 and African activities and potential areas for further collaboration, April 2005.

Festus Boahen Aboagye is the Head of the Peace Missions Programme (PMP) at the Institute for Security Studies (ISS). Festus served with the Organisation of African Unity (OAU) from August 2000 to May 2002 as Senior Military Expert for the Ethiopia-Eritrea conflict and peace process. From March 2003 to March 2004, he served the African Union (AU) as Consultant / Panel Member for the development of the Policy Framework for the African Standby Force and later as Senior Military Advisor to the Head of the African Mission in Burundi (AMIB). Prior to his service with the OAU/AU, Festus served in the Ghana Army and attained the rank of Colonel. He is a veteran of several UN peace operations and also served with ECOMOG in Liberia from 1997-98. He is the author of "The Ghana Army, A Concise Contemporary Guide to its Regimental Centennial History (1897-1999) and "ECOMOG, A Sub-Regional Experience in Conflict Prevention, Management and Peacekeeping in Liberia. He has also published papers on African regional peace operations and regional collaboration with the UN System.